Description

Discover a rare blend of power, capability, and pedigree with this beautifully equipped 1979 Cessna 340A. N12SB combines the legendary reliability of the 340 series with premium upgrades making it an exceptional choice for discerning owners seeking pressurized performance, low-time engines, and modern avionics in a true cabin-class twin.

N12SB stands out with its low-time RAM IV engines, NEW Hartzell props, full FIKI, and a modern Garmin panel, all wrapped in the proven airframe and pressurized comfort that have made the Cessna 340A the benchmark in cabin-class piston twins.

Whether you're flying high-value business missions or family trips, this aircraft offers speed, safety, and comfort at a fraction of turbine operating costs. Which is all supported by a complete, transparent maintenance history.
