Description

N5227S is a beautifully maintained 2009 Cessna 182T Skylane (N5227S) is a standout example of general aviation's most respected and versatile aircraft. With just over 1,100 hours total time and always hangared since new, this damage-free, corrosion-free Skylane offers the perfect balance of performance, comfort, and reliability. Powered by the proven 230 HP Lycoming engine and equipped for serious cross-country travel, it delivers the capability pilots expect from a late-model 182T while maintaining the efficiency and stability that make it such a trusted platform. Whether you're upgrading, expanding your mission profile, or stepping into a high-performance aircraft, this well-cared-for Skylane is turnkey and ready to go.
